Prof. Ajit K. Tamuli

Department of Life Science and Bioinformatics

"It gives me immense pleasure to write a few lines for the college which gave me the basics to stand high today. I did my Pre-degree (Science) in 1981 and B Sc (Botany) in 1983 from Bahona College, Jorhat. I am nostalgic to remember my days at the college during those days.

Though the college is not at the heart of the town, it catered to high-quality education together with moral values amidst greenery. All the teachers along with the Lab staff, and office personnel were extremely dedicated and caring. Today what I am is only due to the teachings received in college. I have pursued M Sc in Botany followed by Ph.D. from Gauhati University (Laboratory at the then RRL now CSIR NEIST).

Today I am serving at Assam University, Diphu Campus (A Central University) as Professor and Head of the Life Science Department. The college has grown immensely from those days to be accreditated A+ grade by NAAC having lots of potentiality. I wish and pray to God for its further improvement in the days to come."
