

Report on Motivational Speech

Department of Economics, Bahona College

Date 15.06.2019

Need

Bahona College is situated in a rural area, just two kilometers far from the river Brahmaputra. The feeding area of the college is economically backward and majority of the inhabitants are of reserved category or of non-creamy layer. Of all students of Bahona College, nearly ninety percent students come from this area. So, naturally they lag behind their counterparts of urban and sub-urban areas in personality development and in developing a dream for future attainment. It is a fact that a career without any future perception is just like a boat without radar. In this context the department feels that a motivational speech should be arranged along with the farewell programme that the students were going to be organized on 15.06.2019.

About the Speaker

Who should be the motivational speaker, discussing on this matter at departmental meeting, it has been finally decided that Dr. Achyut Akash Bora, our ex-student of 2003 batch would be the best to invite. Because he made himself what he is today is a result of big effort and struggle. Now he is working as the principal at the State Institute of Panchayat and Rural Development (SIPRD). So, he was invited when he responded positively and eagerly.

Working of the Session

The programme was presided over by Mrs. Binoda Bora, the Head of the Department, Economics. The first part of the programme was covered by the farewell session of outgoing students. At the starting Dr. Achyut Akash Bora was introduced with the students and felicitated. Next the farewell agenda was accomplished by the existing students.

Next, at the starting of motivational speech Dr. Rofique Ahmed, the associate professor of the department stated citing some success stories why a dream, that is an aim is necessary to proceed in life. He welcomed Dr. Bora to the department thanked for gracing the occasion.

Then the president requested Dr. Bora to deliver his speech. In his speech Dr. Bora recollected his experience in Bahona College as student and cooperation of the teachers. He recalled his journey to success. Citing several success stories experienced his service life encouraged the students to be dutiful to their parents, to the teachers and the society as a whole. He also explained that without dream and continuous effort to reach that dream, the success does not fall from the sky. So, students should always proceed with certain agenda for future with upward modification time to time if necessary. He also shared the secrets of his progression in his service life. Students also interacted with him about the provisions of placement under state government's departments. He clarified the queries.

Conclusion

The president, in her speech expected that the deliberation made by Dr. Bora would help both existing and outgoing students. She also shared her own experience as students as she came from a rural interior backward family. She recollected the sincerity and inquisitiveness of Dr. AchyutAkash Bora as student in Bahona College. He also maintained these qualities in university too. She thanked Dr. Bora for keeping request even amidst busy schedules and for deliberation such a fruitful speech. At last she thanked students for listening all the things attentively. The session came to closure after vote of thanks by Dr. ReemaRabha, assistant professor of the department.

Outcomes

It was expected that such motivational speech, particularly by well-established ex-students of the department would implant some positive thoughts in the mind of the existing students and it would encourage them to proceed for a tough goal.
