One Week Online Workshop on

Research Methodology for Ethnographic Study

Introduction:

The field of ethnography requires a rigorous research methodology to produce credible and reliable results. However, the current landscape of ethnographic research faces several challenges, including the emergence of new technologies, the globalization of culture, and the diversification of research participants. Therefore, it is imperative to equip researchers with the knowledge and skills necessary to conduct ethnographic research effectively. To address this need, we propose a National Level One Week Online Workshop on Research Methodology for Ethnographic Study.

Objectives:

The workshop aims to achieve the following objectives:

- To provide a comprehensive overview of research methodology for ethnographic study.
- To enhance participants' knowledge of various ethnographic research techniques and data collection methods.
- To help participants develop practical skills in data analysis, interpretation, and reporting.
- To create a platform for participants to share their research experiences and learn from each other.
- To promote networking among researchers interested in ethnographic research.

Target Audience:

The workshop is designed for researchers, students, and practitioners who are interested in ethnographic research methodology. Participants from various disciplines, such as anthropology, political science, history, sociology, psychology, education, cultural studies, folklore studies, geography, and communication studies, are welcome to attend.

Content and Structure:

The workshop will tentatively cover the following topics:

1. Methodology for Ethnographic Research
2. Designing Effective Ethnographic Projects
3. Ethical Issues in Ethnography
4. Data Collection Techniques in Ethnography
5. Conducting Successful Ethnographic Interviews
6. Approaches to Data Analysis in Ethnography
7. Reporting Ethnographic Findings
8. Special Topics in Ethnography
9. Collaborative Ethnography: Engaging with Participants and Communities in Research
10. Multi-sited Ethnography: Challenges and Opportunities
11. Digital Ethnography: Researching in Online and Virtual Environments

Mode of the Workshop:

Online delivery mode via a virtual learning platform

Interactive sessions comprising lectures, case studies, and group discussions

Faculty and Resource Persons:

The workshop will be facilitated by experts in ethnographic research methodology. The resource persons will be drawn from academia and industry, bringing together a diverse range of experiences and perspectives.

Expected Outcomes:

By the end of the workshop, participants will have:

- A deeper understanding of research methodology for ethnographic study
- Enhanced skills in data collection, analysis, and interpretation
- A better appreciation of ethical considerations in ethnographic research
- Greater confidence in designing and conducting ethnographic research projects
- An expanded network of researchers interested in ethnographic research

The National Level One Week Online Workshop on Research Methodology for Ethnographic Study aims to provide a comprehensive and practical learning experience for researchers interested in ethnographic research methodology. By attending this workshop, participants will develop the necessary skills and knowledge to conduct rigorous and meaningful ethnographic research.
