About Bahona College:

Bahona College is a premier institution of higher education located in a rural environment. The college was established in 1966, to cater to the needs of higher education as well as to alleviate the socio-economic conditions of the larger locality within which it is located. Numerous distinguished educationists and social workers had taken the initiative in the establishment of the college to open up new vistas of a brighter future for the generations to come.

About Department of Economics, Bahona College:

The Department of Economics, along with Bahona College itself, was established with a general objective to impart higher education in Economics in North-East Jorhat, on 15th July, 1966. Subsequently, with a vision of offering intensive higher education in the field of economics with special emphasis on the orientation of emerging job opportunities and local socio-economic issues as well, the major course in Economics was commenced since the academic year 1974-75. To this date, the department has traversed years long offering Economics as major to 38 Batches and as core 46 and to its credit, apart from teaching economics in higher secondary courses, this department has produced more than two thousand graduates with economics as honours/major and many more with economics as core subject. The department, to orient the students with local issues, accomplishes some field survey-based project works and seminal presentation, recently striding for publication, under the organizational banner of Bahona College Economic Study and Research Center, established in 2011, and Bahona College Economic Association, as its students' wing, originating to the department's older organization Bahona College Economic Forum, established in the year 1996. Department of Economics organizes time to time counselling and motivation programmes and also associates career orientation courses and bridge courses to enable the students to pace with recent trend of higher education in economics and in job markets as well.

Concept Note:

Most often we come across research misconducts like fabrication, falsification, and plagiarism in research. Research Ethics provides a set of ethical guidelines for responsible scientific conduct and dissemination of research. The workshop aims to make researchers aware of the existing national and international guidelines in research publications in journals and books. The workshop also aims to cover the ethical issues that need to be complied while applying for research project through various agencies. Further, the workshop also aims to provide a guideline for creative writing. The workshop covers the ethical issues related at different stages of research from conception to publication.

In this context, the 7-days workshop aims in building an adequate understanding of ethical principles and regulations in research to strengthen the capacity of the young researchers in identifying and applying the principles of scientific research.

Specifically, it aims to focus on the following issues:

1. Ethics and Scientific Conduct in Research
2. National and International Laws and guidelines
3. Research misconducts (participant and researcher)
4. Publication Ethics for Journals, Books, and Creative Writing
5. Open Access Publication
6. Publication Misconduct
7. Research Metric
